Our Brand Essence and Position Statement

Brand Essence: Professional expertise in project-critical large/wide format document distribution and management.

Brand Position Statement: For design and construction professionals who require organization and distribution of print and digital documents and images, IRgA members provide document and information management and distribution services with speed, accuracy and professionalism throughout the project life cycle. Unlike unskilled print providers with little knowledge of the design and construction process, IRgA members, for more than 80 years, have provided cutting-edge expertise, technology, and cost-effective solutions in a rapidly changing environment so that AEC companies and owners/developers can meet critical deadlines, save time, money and resources.
